Federal Personnel To Visit Here

Twenty-five officers of federal agencies will be hosted in Hartford Nov. 3 and 4 by the Greater Hartford Chamber of Commerce.

The officials will visit the city as part of a year-long program to educate federal personnel before they go abroad.

The group is touring the country "to become more intimately acquainted with the U.S." and the Chamber's two-day program is designed to make certain the federal officials learn about Connecticut, and particularly the Hartford area.

The group includes officials from the Department of State, the Armed Forces, the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), the U.S. Information Agency (USIA), the Department of Agriculture and the Department of Defense.

They will be Chamber guests Nov. 3 at a reception in the Hotel America, along with city officials and members of the business community.

The federal officials will meet at 8:30 a.m. Nov. 4 for a briefing on the aircraft industry in Greater Hartford and Connecticut. Speaker will be Robert Baer, president, United Aircraft International, Inc.

Arthur J. Lumsden, president of the Greater Hartford Chamber of Commerce, will narrate a slide presentation on Hartford's urban renewal program, which will be followed by a panel discussion on Constitution Plaza.

Panelists will include Gladden W. Baker, chairman, Broadcast Plaza, Inc.; Roger C. Wilkins, senior vice president, the Travelers Insurance Companies, and Robert J. Bliss, director, Hartford Redevelopment Agency.

Henry R. Roberts, president, The Connecticut General Life Insurance Co., will then moderate a panel on the insurance industry, with John A. Hill, president, Aetna Life & Casualty; Lyndes B. Stone, president, Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Co., and Harry V. Williams, president, The Hartford Insurance Group. The seminar will then visit the Travelers Data Processing Center.

A tour and briefing on computers will be led by Morrison H. Beach, senior vice president, and John J. Roach, second vice president, of the Travelers.

Following luncheon at the Plaza Room of the Hotel America, the senior seminar will continue on to New York City.
